Recommendations

This is what colleagues have had to say about Joan:

"Joan is professional, hard working, conscientious, and has a great eye for detail. She uses her interpersonal skills to influence others to ensure that financial controls are adhered to and if concerned about an issue is proactively involved to ensure that the right process, controls and reporting are in place. With regards to company sales, Joan has been meticulous in managing IP and royalty contracts and subsequent debt management, ensuring that: -Contractual obligations are well understood from a financial perspective -Project managers have met those obligations -The necessary records are in place to invoice and recognise income. - Debts are collected with minimal delays It is a real pleasure working with Joan, and you can always rely on her support and great sense of humour (and a funny accent!)"

"Joan is a very hard worker, with a great eye for detail (All important when reviewing contracts). She was always confident in her work, and was able to prioritise and organise her work in order to meet all the necessary month end deadlines "

"Joan is a fantastically well organised person. She always has information at her finger tips for anything she is responsible for. She has a logical approach to her work and prioritises well. She is proactive and often spots potential problems and offers solutions. She is hard working and enthusiastic and undertakes any task requested of her to an extremely high standard"
